Item No. 8. On the Agenda. Communication from the City Council.

Mayor Pro Tem Jean Moore shared her thoughts about the life of Ray Brock, a longtime and dedicated Northlander, who had touched the lives of people in the community, through his time, talents, and generosity. She added that he left behind a beautiful legacy and extended her deepest sympathy to his wife and family. She thanked Justin Merkey and the Parks, Recreation, and Cultural Arts staff for their part in the amazing Whiskey Fest event.

Mayor Garnos thanked Amy Harlin, the Chamber, and Chamber ambassadors for their efforts organizing Gladfest. He stated that there were some challenges due to the construction around City Hall and although there wasn't a parade, he reported that the Pep Rally went very well. He thanked all of the City staff and other volunteers that helped set up. He also reported that the dedication of Fire Station Number 2 was another milestone in Gladstone. He then shared that he met with the second graders from Oak Hill Day School during their field trip at City Hall and had a question and answer session. He thanked Becky Jarrett who helped put the program together for the students. He also thanked Director Justin Merkey for another great Whiskey Fest.

Item No. 9. On the Agenda. Communication from the City Manager.

City Manager Wingerson expressed his thoughts about Mr. Brock and concurred with Mayor Pro Tem Moore on her well expressed words about Mr. Brock. He thanked Director Justin Merkey for the fantastic Whiskey Fest event and reported 500 tasting tickets were sold. He announced the fall edition of the Gladstone magazine was being finalized and would be available to residents in November. He discussed the concept of the upcoming Ploggathon, a contest through the Mid-America Regional Council, to see which city would have the most volunteers and who would pick up the most trash. This event will be Sunday, October 16, 2022 at 8:00 am.
